

Update from Miss Lee...

The 6 weeks of the half term, as always, have flown by and been full of many activities and events. This term I've spent time completing a variety of 'pupil voice' activities which in summary showed that pupils are confident when talking about the learning that takes place at St Paul's and that they feel challenged, happy, safe and know where to go if they have any concerns. Many shared exciting stories about many of the events seen below showing the value these bring to the enjoyment of learning.

It was good to be able to share our OFSTED report that encompassed the values and ethos of St Pauls and look forward to building on this success over the next 4 years when our next inspection will be due.

This term we were pleased to welcome Miss Draycott back following her maternity leave and would like to wish Mrs Twigg a happy and healthy maternity leave, which starts today.

Have a wonderful, hopefully sunny half term.

Miss Lee

We have been very proud of our year 2 and 6 pupils who have taken part in their SATs over the last few weeks, their 'Can do' approach and resilience was evident throughout these tests – well done!

All three classes really enjoyed themselves and the staff were very proud of their fantastic behaviour.
